

Privacy Policy

The new General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) came in to force on 25th May 2018. This law replaces the old Data Protection Act and gives us all a greater say in how our data is stored and what it can be used for.

This document sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us. By contracting to rent a property from us, you indicate that you accept this Privacy Policy.

We treat the personal information of our clients with the utmost respect and confidentiality and take reasonable steps to ensure that your personal information is stored securely and accurately. All such information is stored digitally.

The information we retain about you is as follows:

- Your Name
- Your Address
- Your Telephone Numbers
- Your email addresses
- Your Passport Numbers

The information we collect about you is used to facilitate us providing you with holiday accommodation and for us to accurately record the guests who are staying at our property as required by Spanish law.

We do not routinely share your information with any third parties, however we may be required to share your information if we believe, in our sole discretion that such disclosure is necessary to comply with legitimate and enforceable court orders or otherwise required by law. For example, with the Spanish Police or the tax authorities of the UK or Spain.

We do not collect any information from you via our website nor do we use “cookies”.

We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time so please check our website in order to be sure you have the latest version.

More information about GDPR may be found on the UK Government website.
